ABOUT ME

I am a creative and detail-oriented digital marketing professional with practical experience in healthcare digital marketing, SEO, social media management, and content creation. I worked as a Digital Marketing Executive at Healthy Jeena Sikho, where I handled healthcare awareness content, SEO optimization, website management through Wix, blog writing, and social media marketing activities. I enjoy creating educational and audience-friendly content and continuously learning new digital marketing strategies. Seeking opportunities to further enhance my practical knowledge, creativity, and professional skills through hands-on industry experience and continuous learning.
